COMMENTS:

Camillo di Carlo founded Agriverde winery in 1830. Almost two centuries have passed since then and the property has expanded to become an organic farming business, now run by Giannicola Di Carlo and his two sons Federico and Daniele.

AGRIVERDE mission is to produce superior wines preserving what we inherited from Nature, in order to hand it down to future generations.

AGRIVERDE philosophy is centred on the respect of Nature and Man himself, that is why the property is all organic farming and biodynamic.

NATUM wines are "Certified Organic" and they are the prove that it is possible to make prestigious wines, very complex and suitable for long aging and be ORGANIC at the same time.

The Natum line of wine was the first in Italy to receive also the VEGAN certification as none of Agriverde's wines are produced using "animal derivate" products such as egg-white and gelatin communally used in the industry.
